

Invasive Fungal Infections in the ICU Diagnostic and Therapeutic Challenges

2009 Critical Care Canada Forum
Lunch Symposium

FACULTY:

Anand Kumar, MD

Section of Critical Care Medicine and Infectious Diseases
Associate Professor of Medicine, Medical Microbiology and Pharmacology/Therapeutics
University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Coleman Rotstein, MD, FRCPC, FACP, FIDSA

Professor of Medicine, Division of Infectious Disease, University of Toronto, University Health Network.
Co-Director, Transplant Infectious Diseases.
Director, Oncologic Infectious Diseases, Toronto General Hospital and Princess Margaret Hospital, Toronto, Ontario.

Yoanna Skrobik, MD, FRCPC

Associate Professor in the Dept of Medicine, Division of Critical Care
Université de Montréal, Maisonneuve-Rosemont Hospital
Adjunct Professor, McGill University, Montreal, Quebec

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- List risk factors and adverse outcomes predictors associated with IFIs
- Understand challenges associated with establishing diagnosis and diagnostic tools available
- Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of systemic antifungal agents in the ICU setting

SHERATON CENTRE TORONTO

Sheraton C - Lower concourse

TUESDAY OCTOBER 27, 2009

12:30PM – 1:30PM

